

BAIDURI CAPITAL HOSTS WEBINAR WITH PHILLIP SECURITIES ABOUT FINTECH AND ELECTRIC VEHICLES

Bandar Seri Begawan, 11 May 2021 – In its efforts to keep investors up-to-date on global trends and developments, Baiduri Capital hosted an investment webinar titled ‘Thriving in a fast-changing environment: EVs and Fintech’ in collaboration with Phillip Securities on Wednesday 5 May 2021.

The webinar was conducted by Mike Ong, who is currently the chief editor of the ‘HQ Education Series’ at Phillip Securities, and aimed to equip participants with the basic tools and information to make more informed investing and trading decisions with regards to the rapidly growing Electric vehicle (EV) and Financial Technology (FinTech) markets.

The speaker gave the participants a brief outlook of the various kinds of EV manufacturers and their performances as well as the different EV related policies several world governments have already begun implementing in their own countries. The webinar also looked at the current innovations in the FinTech industry and ended by giving investors suggestions on how they can capitalise on the different opportunities in both the EV and the FinTech markets.

Mr Peng Eng Soon, General Manager of Baiduri Capital said: “A growing number of Western and European countries are making the shift towards electric vehicles that are eco-friendlier and more sustainable. Here in Brunei, we have also seen the Government launch the ‘EV Pilot Project’ in March this year, which is a strong sign that Brunei will also be looking to introduce electric vehicles in the coming years.”

He added: “This also means that there are new growth opportunities for investors to consider and capitalise on to further expand their investment portfolios. At Baiduri Capital, we are committed to helping our clients seize market opportunities and overcome new challenges by equipping them with knowledge and valuable insights.”
